

Contents

Preface	v
1. Mathematics Teacher Education: At a Crossroad	1
Glenda Lappan, Michigan State University Kelly Rivette, Michigan State University
2. Collaborative Efforts to Improve the Mathematical Preparation of Middle Grades Mathematics Teachers: Connecting Middle School and College Mathematics	19
James E. Tarr, University of Missouri-Columbia Ira J. Papick, University of Missouri-Columbia
3. Conducting Research and Solving Problems: The Russian Experience of Inservice Training	35
Alexander Karp, Teachers College, Columbia University
4. Using Alternative Assessment to Affect Preservice Elementary Teachers' Beliefs about Mathematics	49
David Charles Coffey, Grand Valley State University
5. The Experiences in a Concepts in Calculus Course for Middle School Mathematics Teachers	67
Susann M. Mathews, Wright State University
6. Drag, Drag, Drag: The Impact of Dragging on the Formulation of Conjectures within Dynamic Geometry Environments	87
José N. Contreras, University of Southern Mississippi Armando M. Martinez-Cruz, California State University, Ful- lerton
7. Spherical Geometry as a Professional Development	103ⁱⁱ

Context for K-12 Mathematics Teachers

Janet Sharp, Montana State University

- 8. Preparing for the Future: An Early Field Experience that Focuses on Students' Thinking 119

Laura R. Van Zoest, Western Michigan University

- 9. Preparing Teachers to Teach Mathematics within a Constructivist Framework: The Importance of Listening to Children 135

Beatriz D'Ambrosio, Indiana University
Purdue University Indianapolis

- 10. Revealing Current Practice Through Audio-Analysis Releases the Power of Reflection to Improve Practice 151

Ann R. Taylor, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville
Barbara D. O'Donnell, Southern Illinois University Edwardsville

- 11. The Interview Assignment: Evaluating a Teacher Candidate's Knowledge of Mathematics Content, Questioning, and Assessment 169

Patricia S. Moyer-Packenham, George Mason University

- 12. Professional Development for Teacher and Teacher Educator Through Sustained Collaboration 189

Amy Roth McDuffie, Washington State University Tri-Cities
Martha Mather, Washington State University Tri-Cities
Karen Reynolds, Washington State University Tri-Cities

- 13. Helping Teachers Develop New Conceptualizations About the Teaching and Learning of Mathematics 205

Roberta Y. Schorr, Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey Campus at Newark